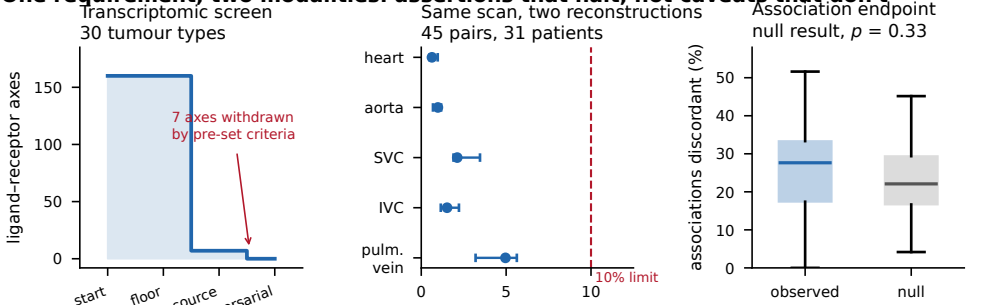
One requirement, two modalities: assertions that halt, not caveats that don't



An assumption we wrote as prose — that reconstructions of one acquisition share coverage — was false; only measurement caught it.